Most of the products require intermediate to advanced sewing skills to finish the projects. The only way the majority of these projects could be completed in two days is if there was absolutely nothing else going on - no kids, no pets, no nothing. Most of them require at least an hour or two of cross-stitching than even more time cutting out patterns and sewing with a machine to finish the final project. A lot of the supplies necessary are not likely to be kept on hand, either, so planning ahead for any of these projects is a must.11 of 11 people found the following review helpful. Easy and quick cross stitch gifts!By matejka@bga.comI can see why the title is called Weekend Cross-Stitch Gifts since I made a magnet and a book marker within hours! The other projects range from samplers, photo frames, place mats, bread covers, etc. I plan to make several more items from this book.

A compendium of quick and easy-to-do projects that can be made in just one weekend. Projects cover a variety of gift-giving occasions and holidays. Many of the 100 projects require no finishing, and many others use simple techniques. Full color.
