Malley I am not an avid knitter, I learned from my grandmother how to knit and crochet when I was young. I preferred crocheting and have been doing that for over 50 years. Just recently I decided to try knitting again and wanted to try socks. I love the 2 at a time method because I know that I would be the one who makes one sock and doesn't want to start again to make the second one. I'm working on my second pair of socks now and I know I couldn't have made the first ones without this book.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. For all levels of knittersBy K. F.Thank-you for figuring this out!1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Can you say amazing!!!!!!By SarahI have knitted for about 10 years or so now and was nervous about doing socks since they did have a reputation of being difficult, this book changed all that! I have had so much fun with it! What a brilliant idea for knitters! The book has good instructions for when you first start and you can use the idea with any pattern afterword. (For instance, after I made the practice pair, I made a pair from some random lion brand thingy and it worked great!!!) The book also comes with 17 patterns for a variety of different socks! A must buy for anyone looking to start socks!

Knitting one sock is fun and rewarding, but finishing its partner can become a chore that leaves well-intentioned knitters suffering from second sock syndrome. With this two-at-a-time technique you can easily finish a full pair of socks on the same day. Step-by-step photographs illustrate how to cast on and knit two socks together on one long circular needle, whatever the pattern or shape. Lonely, abandoned single socks are now a thing of the past!

Knitters know the first sock finished brings great joy, quickly followed by the dismay that theres still a second one that has to be completed. The second-sock syndrome is over, thanks to Melissa Morgan-Oakes. The author of 2-at-a-Time Socks shows knitters how, with one circular needle, two socks can be completed at once. Hurray!
