Shows the importance of having a curator who is "in touch"By KingfisherI own 5 books in this series and they are inspiring. 500 Earrings was curated by Allen Revere. He obviously knows a thing or two about jewelry making. This collection has little to inspire or even interest if you work in metals instead of coffee filters. I would like to return it as I doubt I'll look at it again. What a disappointment!2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. One StarBy Jan KelloggWay out there. I can't imagine actually wearing these.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. eye candy for art loversBy Randy Thilla unique collection of bracelets...Not particularly geared toward metal artists, tho, which was what I was looking for. It does have lots of eye candy and would make a great coffee table book.

Never before has such a diverse collection of fine contemporary bracelets been assembled, showcasing hundreds of renowned international jewelers. Materials range from the most precious metals and gems to paper and plastic, and the varied techniques include forging, casting, weaving, and and surface embellishments. Among the featured creators: Abrasha, who contributes a Royal Pachinko Ball Bracelet; Sharon Portelance, who called her work Wrist Corsage:

Ever Present; and Felieke Van Der Leest's amusingly named Hare O'Harix and His 6 Carrots. Whether you're an expert jeweler, a collector, a student, or simply someone who loves beautiful objects, these one-of-kind pieces will astound you.
