I thought I was getting a book with alphabet patterns. At best, this is a magazine or journal. Let me just say, it was sent in a letter pouch from the seller. And let me add, if you like the samples on the front or the inside cover that you can see on .com, then go for it... because that is the only alphabet patterns in the entire pamphlet! And I thought there would be more fancy or dainty lettering. The floral on the second row on the front is the only one in it. Like I said, its just..... okay.So, in conclusion, I'll say this:Its not a book, and its not an assortment of alphabets. It is mainly something you would use to design something for a kid (just like it says on the title), and shows the majority of designs on the cover (as you can see). I won't be using it like I thought. Good thing I got that Better Homes and Gardens book, "2001 Cross Stitch Designs". Now that is a great book!!!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Cross-stitch loversBy Debra M. DuvalI love cross-stitch and some of these look really interesting to work. I love the bright colors some of them have and the slimy stuff looks like it will be a 'hoot' to work. Can't wait to get started.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Four StarsBy Dawn Elaine MartinLove this children's alphabets for all manner of stitching on samplers and birth announcements!

What better way to learn the ABCs! These 8 terrific cross stitched alphabets will have the kids reciting them in no time. A variety of themed alphabets will appeal to boys and girls of all ages. Stitch an entire alphabet to frame, or combine any of the letters and accompanying motifs to create name tags, door signs, wall hangings, and more. You can also use the designs with waste canvas to decorate clothing and quilts. With so many options, the possibilities are endless for creating one-of-a-kind, personalized gifts. 8 Alphabets: Alphabots and In the Garden by Sandy Orton; Noah's Ark, ABC Thingamajigs, Fiesta Folk Art, Creepy Crawly, and Bugs All Around by Linda Gillum; and Once Upon a Time by Donna Yuen.
