Ian White : Australian Bush Flower Healing before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Australian Bush Flower Healing:

My only wish is that they have a chapter listing all flower essences, and for the new ones, they have detailed, nuanced descriptions, but for anything prior, it just says "same as previously understood" - or the like. I actually have the first book, so I have the info, but it would be so nice to have a completed version all in one place. And it wouldn't have taken up that much room.

Anyway, it's fantastic to read about the new healing options, and hear about new discoveries with longer-known essences. Wonderful! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Good Book By whitestar This is a good book, useful for anyone who wants to learn about the bush essences.

At last, here is the long-awaited companion volume to Ian White's best-selling Australian Bush Flower Essences, first published in 1991 and still the authoritative book in the field. This second book, Australian Bush Flower Healing, is essential not only for natural therapists but also for all those interested in alternative remedies for health, harmony and wellbeing. Topics covered include: the healing properties of twelve new Australian bush flower essences; important new research on the first 50 essences; how to prepare and take the essences; formulas for combination essences and companion essences; repertories of physical and emotional conditions; emotional patterns and balance in pregnancy and labor; iridology; goal setting and goal achieving; and astrology, health, and the essences.

About the Author Ian White is a fifth-generation Australian herbalist, and has been practicing naturopathy and homoeopathy for more than twenty years. Today his Australian Bush Flower Essence remedies are used and prescribed by healers, families, naturopaths, and medical doctors. They are sold in pharmacies and health-food shops all over Australia and increasingly throughout the world. He regularly runs workshops in Australia, North and South America, Asia, England and Europe, as well as teaching at the major Australian naturopathic colleges.
