This is a short book giving very little information. Much better books are available on at the same price or less. I recommend The Bed Bug Book or Bed Bug Treatment Manual.

Learn the importance of bed bug education and why they have become one of the biggest game changers in the pest control industry. The future of bed bugs and their invasion depends on people and what they know about them. This book is a must read for all!

About the Author Denise Donovan is the Founder and Director of The (IBBRA) The International Bed Bug Resource Authority, and an expert on educating people about bed bugs globally. As a consultant, and researcher in the bed bug industry, Denise teaches a three step process of Educate, Evaluate and Initiate techniques while balancing the risks of pesticides and safety for all. Denise sees home life styles changing due to bed bugs' hitch-hiking and hiding abilities. She has developed and has gone on public television with her "be aware---not scare" program. Her books will enable you to know where the risks for picking up bed bugs are, detect bed bugs early, and eliminate them using the best green IPM methods and practices. In 2009, Denise formed a Bed Bug Crisis Hotline to establish common sense solutions using compassion and innovation in sensitive habitats. The Hotline acts as a liaison between landlords and tenants, hotelkeepers and guests, companies and employees, to make "no-blame" solutions for bed bugs. She is authoring a 12 part series of bed bug books called The Bed Bug Chronicles where she goes into great depth and detail on all subjects surrounding bed bugs.
