This book will take you back to some of the great dinning rooms of yesterday and some of today's. How many people do you know who have recipes from restaurants at the 1964 Worlds Fair? This book is lavishly illustrated with color photos and introductions to the particular restaurants recipes. You are sure to recognize a good deal of the establishments. This makes for fun reading and even funner eating! Enjoy!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I had one for many years and then it disappeared and I have missed the wonderful recipes. Now I can again prepare some of our favorite dishes again. Thank you!

The genesis of this book came from one of the best-read features in Better Homes and Gardens magazine. Its popularity year after year alerted their food editors to the joy of exploring show-case restaurants for new flavor combinations, new treatments, and new perfection. All recipes were tested in the BHG kitchens to make sure they were adaptable to home cooking. Many of the restaurants no longer exist but were extremely popular in the mid-20th century. They include Hotel Pierre in New York City; Top of the Fair from the New York World's Fair; Lchow's, also in New York; Longfellow's Wayside Inn in South Sudbury, Massachusetts; the Toll House in Whitman, Massachusetts; the Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia; the American Hotel in Miami Beach; Antoine's, Arnaud's, Commander's Palace, Brennan's, and the Pontchartrain Hotel - all in New Orleans; Neiman-Marcus in Dallas, Texas; and Maxim's in Houston; the Old Stone Inn in Shelbyville, Kentucky; The Tavern Chop House in Cleveland, Ohio; Marshall Field's, the Imperial House, the Palmer House, the Swiss Chalet in the Bismarck Hotel, the Pump Room in the Ambassador East Hotel, the Stock Yard Inn, and the Cape Code Room at the Drake Hotel - all in Chicago; the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs; the Mayfair Hotel in St. Louis; the Old Adobe Patio in Tucson, Arizona; Sun Valley Lodge in Sun Valley, Idaho; Ivar's and Rosellini's Four-10 in Seattle, Washington; Ernie's, The Fairmont Hotel, and Trader Vic's in San Francisco; The Ahwahnee in Yosemite National Park; the Nut Tree outside Sacramento, California; the Beverly Hills Club in Beverly Hills, California; the Kona Inn and Coco Palms in Kauai, Hawaii; and more, more, more.... Includes a short history of each restaurant before the recipes.
