Dave Windle : British Aerospace Hawk: Armed Light Attack and Multi-Combat Fighter Trainer (Profiles of Flight) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised British Aerospace Hawk: Armed Light Attack and Multi-Combat Fighter Trainer (Profiles of Flight):

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Little book, big priceBy Kevin CallahanI don't really have an issue with the content of the book, except as it relates to the price. Very small format, very thin (less than 100 pages), for a

$40 MSRP? The text isn't bad, though even that is mentioned as being largely adapted from a previously published book. And while the profiles are thoroughly competent, there just aren't enough of them. There are definitely better Hawk historical summaries out there, and a number of better Hawk color-and-markings books out there, and most don't approach the MSRP of this item. If you can catch it at $19+, as I did, you might not feel too ripped off, but even at that price point the value-for-money is marginal.

For many years the worlds finest aerobatic team, the RAFs Red Arrows, have thrilled millions with their demonstrations of this fine aircraft's agility and maneuverability. Black Hawks can also be seen in the valleys of Wales, flying ground-hugging flight paths along the valleys. These are the aircraft used to teach flying perfection to new generations of fighter and ground-attack pilots. The aircraft has earned millions of pounds, being exported to many overseas countries. This book contains the world famous color profiles created by Dave Windle of the type in different operational modes, configurations and color schemes. Martin Bowman has written detailed descriptions and photographs to create the perfect enthusiasts reference.
