Sammie Crawford : Building Gourd Birdhouses with the Fairy Gourdmother before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Building Gourd Birdhouses with the Fairy Gourdmother:

Strong on painting instructions By Bonnie Gibson Building Gourd Birdhouses is by decorative painter Sammie Crawford, and painting is the main focus of the instructions. The first pages contain basic information on gourd shapes, cleaning, basic painting techniques and making plywood bases (used in some projects.) The book has designs for 9 birdhouses and one bird feeder. It does not include any information on hole sizes and placement necessary for making functional birdhouses. Instead, this book focuses solely on decorative birdhouses and painting techniques. Patterns are included along with limited assembly instructions and detailed painting instructions. This book would be good for the person that wants to make the projects exactly as shown on the cover. Printed in paperback - a bit overpriced for the content and length. (80 pages, $24.95 cover price)
