From Annie's Attic : Chemo Caps Wraps (Annie's Attic: Crochet) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Chemo Caps Wraps (Annie's Attic: Crochet):

I was looking for less simple-looking hats, because so many of the fancier hat patterns are hard to tweak to make smaller for someone with thinning or no hair. I wanted something more stylish than just plain beanies, but ones that would fit someone with no hair, where the pattern doesn't create "holes" (for preserving dignity), and men's sizes. This book has all of that, plus child and baby sizes. I like to work with medium worsted yarn, and there are plenty of patterns in this book that call for it. I admit, I wouldn't make some, but a good 90% appeal to me right away. A great addition to my library, and yours if you like to make hats, do charity projects or for gifts.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Good SelectionBy JLeeSome very nice patterns here for chemo caps. Ive made hundreds of chemo caps to donate and it gets boring if I use the same designs over and over, so I need variety. I usually make up my own designs, but it is nice to get some inspiration. These are all good designs, with a lot of variation. By reference, I would consider myself an expert crocheter. I cannot say for sure, but perhaps some of these would be hard for beginners. 6 of 6 people found the following review helpful. Perfect! By kanter I work at a large medical complex that includes a Children's Cancer Center. I have been looking for a book that had hats that the kids would really love and be excited about....not just something to cover their heads. This book has exactly the type of hats that the little ones will love. Plus they are easily adaptable to various sizes. I absolutely love this book.

The heartfelt knit designs featured in this collection make thoughtful gifts for friends or relatives whose lives have been affected by cancer. The simple yet stylish caps and wraps are soft and durable enough for everyday wear, and the designs are made using soft worsted- or chunky-weight yarns. The 29 projects include Summer Sorbet Cap Wrap, Just for Him, Cable Lapghan Cap, Flower Shawl Cap, Bitty Baby Wrap Cap, Infusion Wrap, and Knit-look Poncho Cap. A portion of the proceeds from each book sold will be donated to Halos for Hope, a nonprofit organization benefiting cancer patients.
